

LITERARY JOURNALISM AND FRANCE/SOUTH AFRICA: THE BOER WARS

THINKTANK/WRITING WORKSHOP

FROM 13-17 JUNE 2022

Université de Lorraine (CLSH, Nancy, France)

idea.univ-lorraine.fr

Event description

Literary Journalism and France/South Africa: The Boer Wars

JorLitSAF Thinktank/PhD Writing Workshop

from 13-17 June 2022

CLSH, Nancy, room A104 & online

IDEA is hosting South Africans and a French PhD student, who are participating in a week-long "thinktank" and PhD writing workshop as part of our PHC Protea project.

This will be a rather informal gathering, like a round-table discussion.

We will be presenting to each other various documents we have discovered in collecting corpus material since last January.

Our goal is to settle on a final corpus of works that we will work on for next October 2022, when we will hold a more formal session in Johannesburg.

The morning sessions will be about our research; the afternoon sessions will be workshops dedicated to the PhD students. Below is the full program.

You are cordially invited to attend any of the sessions.

Feel free to contact John Bak (john.bak@univ-lorraine.fr) to get extra information and the relevant Cisco links for each day if you wish to join us online.

Full program

Literary Journalism and France/South Africa: The Boer Wars

JorLitSAF Thinktank/PhD Writing Workshop

from 13-17 June 2022

CLSH, Nancy, room A104 & online

	Monday, June 13, 2022 salle A104	Tuesday, June 14, 2022 salle A104	Wednesday, June 15, 2022 salle A104	Thursday, June 16, 2022 salle A104	Friday, June 17, 2022 salle A104
9:30 – 12:30 (coffee break 11:00–11:15)	Thinktank I on Franco- SA press and the Boer Wars	Thinktank II on Franco- SA press and the Boer Wars	South African group meeting	Prep work for October meeting in Johannesburg	PhD writing workshop
Lunch
14:00 – 18:00 (coffee break 15:30–16:00)	PhD writing workshop	PhD writing workshop	French group meeting (online)	Individual research time	Individual research time
18:00–19:00	Cocktail reception		Banquet dinner (from 20:00)

idea.univ-lorraine.fr